

Jasbinder Singh

Biography

Jasbinder Singh, a resident of Herndon since 2001, is serving his second term on the Herndon Town Council.

During his first term, Singh served on the Metrorail Phase II District Commission as well as the Virginia Municipal League's Finance Policy Committee.

Singh is founder and president of Policy Planning & Evaluation, Inc., focusing on analysis and reduction of the financial and regulatory impacts of numerous federal and state environmental, energy, transportation, health and safety programs on industries, small businesses and municipalities. In litigation practice, he has worked with government regulators and corporate and municipal attorneys to help craft settlements in a large number of cases. He has published articles and testified in Federal and state courts as an expert in engineering and economics, specializing in government efficiency.

Prior to founding Policy Planning & Evaluation in 1977, Singh held positions with several consulting organizations, including Booz Allen Hamilton. He holds a bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering from the Indian Institute of Technology in Madras, India; and an MS in Civil Engineering from Carnegie Mellon University. He conducted research in government decision-making processes as a part of the Doctoral Program in Public Policy at Carnegie Mellon and took courses in management science, public policy and economics.

Singh came to the USA from India as a student in 1968 and became a naturalized citizen in the late 1970s. He came to the Washington DC area in 1973. Before becoming a Herndon resident, he lived in Reston for more than 20 years. Singh's wife, Susan, is a Washington DC native and is dedicated to wildlife and nature as well as the emotional development of young children. Singh has two sons and three grandchildren, all of whom live in Northern Virginia.
